In The News

For advice on the best deals, Barron's Penta turned to Doug Gollan, founder of Private Jet Card Comparisons, a modern-day online Kelley Blue Book for private jet cards that compares over 100 programs by 60-plus characteristics.

Journalist and jet expert Doug Gollan says doing your research is essential, which is why he founded privatejetcardcomparisons.com, a site designed to help you work out what suits you best.

Alternatives to PJCC

- Ask a friend
 - However, your friend probably has different flying needs than you, meaning your friend's program may not fit your needs
- Google research
 - Time consuming – Impossible to duplicate PJCC database of over 100 programs - Requesting information triggers calls from jet card sales reps. You have to correlate company brochures into your own spreadsheets
- Hire a consultant
 - Typical cost is $5,000
